

JACLYN ANN HIGGINS, South Africa
Corps de ballet
HNBC

As a little girl I dreamt of performing in front of full audiences in an Opera house! This dream became a reality last year, in what I believe is the most beautiful opera house in the world. To work in such a beautiful country, filled with culture and history is breath taking! The Hungarian National ballet is full of life and enthusiasm and I am very proud to be part of this world renowned company! Moving so far from home was difficult, but every day when I step into class and rehearsal I remember what an incredible opportunity I have been given. I learn something new every day and will never look back.
